Aim and rationales

The EDEN Special Interest Group (SIG) on Technology Enabled Learning (TEL) and Quality Enhancement (QE) was official launched during the EDEN Conference in Jönköping 13-16 June 2017. During the EDEN conference EDEN showed its competence and activities in the field of TEL and QE. EDEN hosted a series of four workshops during the conference. The themes were:

- EDEN's rationale and action plan on the work of launching a SIG on TEL and QE
- Renewing the quality agenda
- Quality in TEL at micro, meso, and macro levels, and identification of stakeholders
- Innovation for quality leadership

The workshops were a start for the EDEN SIG on Technology Enabled Learning (TEL), and Quality Enhancement. Each workshop was a stand-alone event, and all were among the main contributions from EDEN during the conference days. The themes were selected as proposals for EDEN to

WRAPPING UP 2017 IN EDEN

📅 12 December, 2017 👤 Airina Volungeviciene 💬 Leave a comment

The Values and Flexibility for Recognition of Innovative, Open and Digital Education in Europe

September came with a promise of an Autumn rush for EDEN, but none of us could anticipate the richness of blended virtual and physical events that EDEN community enjoyed through the semester. October's Open Classroom Conference in Athens and EDEN's presence at the ICDE World Conference on Online Learning „Teaching in a Digital Age – Re-thinking Teaching & Learning”, hosted by EDEN's long standing prestigious partner: Contact North in Toronto were sound introductions to EDEN's November events.

The European Distance Learning Week \(EDLW\) took place between the 6-10th of November, 2017, for the second time in Europe, also continuing a successful collaboration with the United States Distance Learning Association (USDLA) in synergy with the US Distance Learning Week.

This year EDLW was also organized in a blended mode, having the international conference “Open Professional Collaboration for Open Classroom” organized by EDEN – UNESCO IITE – MES – VMU, as part of the EDEN Open Classroom conferences, the physical event in Kaunas broadcast online.

Receiving and collecting badges representing your achievements with EDEN provides you the opportunity to show your skills and accomplishments to a wide audience in social web communities.

The badge itself is a digital image designed to represent a certain accomplishment. Behind the badge, there is a collection of meta-data about the criteria of the badge, but what is more important, you can add proof of the skill it represents to the online repository (Open Badge Passport), e.g.: your presentation at the conference.

Badges are owned by the badge earner. Sharing, and even accepting, a badge is the free choice of the earner, so you can decide if and how you will use the badges to build your own professional brand.
